Missions Update from the Hertwecks

FALL 2021

Adapting in a World of Rapid Change

It was a warm day in Springfield, Missouri, on November 11, 1911. Farmers went into town on their wagons in their shirtsleeves. The temperature rose, and a record high for that day was set. Then a cold front came through and the temperature fell drastically. Those farmers rode back to their farms in a snow storm. And before the day was over a record low temperature for that day was set. So both the record high and the record low for Springfield on November 11 were set in the same 24-hour period.

Sometimes change comes quickly. That is what has happened in our world with the coming of Covid-19. It seems that overnight everything changed. But the difference with this change is that it continues, introducing a "new normal."

We all have had to adapt to living in a pandemic. All change, even good change, is stressful. Who has not been affected by this situation? All of us as individuals have had our lives affected.

Because of the pandemic and lockdown, we are for the time being unable to return to our home and the APTS campus in Baguio City, Philippines. Zoom has become part of our lives, and, even though it is not as good as in-person teaching, it allows us to educate a new generation of Asia Pacific leaders. We are thankful that the missions work is continuing with great effectiveness. Thank you to all of you who have stood with us through your financial and prayer support.
